- Global equity markets rallied another 8% during the 1st quarter of 2024 resulting in new all-time highs for the S&P 500 and the NASDAQ. Large technology companies (namely the Magnificent 7 including AAPL, AMZN, GOOGL, META, MSFT, NVDA, and TSLA) continue to fuel most of the market momentum. MPERS' overall portfolio gained another 4.0% for the quarter, adding to the 6.5% gain in the 4th quarter of 2023.
- The strong equity markets have also pushed MPERS' portfolio balance to all-time highs as the System crossed $3.6 billion for the first time. With only a few weeks remaining in the fiscal year, MPERS' estimated Fiscal Year 2024 return is up to 11.8% (July 1st – June 9th). This should lead to more downward pressure on contribution rates once the fiscal year results are finalized.
- MPERS' long-term returns continue to look strong relative to any metric. MPERS' 3-, 5-, and 10-year returns all rank in the top 1% of the public fund peer universe, while the 20-year return ranks in the top 3%.
